The Cardiff Five Sep 25 2020 This fresh edition of Satish Sekar's classic work brings events up to date as at 2017 and includes matters that the author was prevented from publishing sooner. Among other things it deals with the collapse of the 2011 trial of police officers and others concerning the original miscarriage of justice in this case and in a new Epilogue calls for a Truth and Justice Commission. The author shows how this extreme miscarriage of justice destroyed families, divided communities and undermined confidence in the criminal justice system. The book takes the reader from the sadistic killing of Lynette White in Cardiff in 1988, via the subsequent investigation and trial to the aftermath of the folding of the 2011 trial over 'lost' documents that later materialised. But above all it deals with the hard scientific facts of the first vindication case of the DNA-age.

Satish Kumar: Abundant Love Jul 04 2021 Much has been written by and about Satish Kumar - peace pilgrim, co-founder of Schumacher College, and longtime editor of Resurgence magazine. A monk at the age of nine, and now a world-renowned environmental activist with Honorary Doctorates from five UK universities, Satish Kumar has been working to realise Mahatma Gandhi's vision of a peaceful, sustainable world for much of his life. This new volume gives readers the chance to listen in on a 30-hour ' longform conversation' with Satish - a conversation where his interviewers draw out his experiences, reflections and insights. They question his political and philosophical thinking, invite him to revisit strongly held positions and, through the conversation, seek to cast new light on the man and his multiple perspectives on the world. Forewords by Charles Eisenstein and Arun Maira place his life and work in context and the conversation challenges him on many aspects of his thinking.

Advertising And Sales Promotion Jan 10 2022 Advertising is a brilliant form of art that has become an indispensable part of our lives. As the business scene has transformed for the better in our country, much is happening on the advertising front. To tap the progress on India Advertising in this changed scenario, a third edition of the book 'Advertising and Sales Promotion' has been prepared for the students. In this new edition, all the chapters have been revised and some moderately updated with more relevant text, figures, boxes, exhibits and references. Highlights of this edition: (a) Matter on Segmentation now includes current framework of Values and Lifestyle and Positioning topic has been re-written. (b) Text on Brand Personality and Image has been updated. (c) New Appendices have been added at the end of Part-I and Part- IV, respectively. (d) Some new Boxes with insightful contents have been added. (e) Some of the old exhibits have been replaced with the new ones. The book essentially deals with the dynamic concept of Sales Promotion and its effect on the consumer. Particularly meant for the students of management, specialising in marketing; the book provides a thoroughly educative and interesting reading.

History of Medieval India May 02 2021 Satish Chandra's History of Medieval India is a comprehensive overview of the history of the Indian subcontinent during the thousand-year period between the eighth and the eighteenth century. History of Medieval India studies this interesting period in Indian history when the land underwent drastic changes, deeply influenced by the invading armies, religious movements and the vicissitudes of the changing political, economic and cultural scene. To tell the history of a land spanning the geographical dimensions and the political divisions of the Indian subcontinent is in itself a formidable task. Satish Chandra executes this difficult mission with the eye of an enquirer and the pen of a scholar. Both students and interested readers are sure to find this volume, dealing with the histories of the Cholas, Rajputs, the invading Turks, Vijayanagara kings, Bahmanids, Mughals, Marathas and others, an essential reader for understanding the history of medieval India.

Earth Pilgrim Jul 16 2022 In "Earth Pilgrim," Satish Kumar draws on his personal experience as well as his understanding of the spiritual traditions of both East and West. The book takes the form of conversations between Satish and others about the inner and outer aspects of pilgrimage: to be a pilgrim is to be on a path of adventure, to move out of our comfort zones, to let go of our prejudices and preconditioning, and to make strides toward the unknown. Satish Kumar has been a pilgrim ever since, at the age of eight, he joined the brotherhood of wandering Jain monks in his native India. Later he walked the length and breadth of India with Gandhi's successor Vinoba Bhave, persuading landowners to donate a portion of their lands to the poor. In the 1960s he made an 8,000-mile pilgrimage for peace, which included walking from India over the Himalayas to Paris via Moscow. Satish believes that at this stage of human history we now need a new kind of pilgrim, unattached to any form of dogma: Earth pilgrims who are concerned with this world, not the next, and who are seeking a deep commitment to life in the here and now, upon this Earth, in this world.

Junoon (Passion) Oct 27 2020 As a passionate Indian, who is tired of carrying the tag of a citizen of an under-developed country earlier and now a developing country, the pangs of being known as a citizen of a developed country are too fierce to be suppressed any more. For us Indians, prosperity is not a new phenomenon! Indian History is abound with timeless sagas of success, knowledge and wisdom that has set the contours for evolution of human civilization in this world. A couple of centuries of foreign rule and half a century of questionable governance cannot confine to ashes the inherent strength and pent-up potential that is waiting to be unleashed. The question that arises is whose responsibility is it to lift India and position her into that supreme orbit that is rightfully hers. Each one of us today is racing ahead in life. But our races are individual, tracks incongruent and destinations grossly skewed. Its time to pause – despite the race! Its time to slow down – despite the pace! Its time to review our tracks, re-align our directions and reset our goals! This urge for penning this book is perhaps akin to that child who wishes to flag off the train at the railway station in a direction which is different and objective which is contrary to the set practice. Through this book, I have made an innocent but defiant attempt to flag off a journey for India that would navigate her in the right direction and at optimum pace. This would be an effort worthwhile to have attempted even if some of you choose to hold this flag along with me. I am sure the rest will follow! Satish Seth Iima Aug 25 2020 The economy isn't just for the economists to debate on. All of us are affected by its ups and downs--global recession, rise in interest rates, or hike in food prices. But do we understand the principles at work and how and why they really affect us? Day to Day Economics is an enjoyable, accessible, and extremely user-friendly book that explains the modern day Indian economy to the layperson. In this relevant book, Professor Deodhar explains the role of the government and its involvement in different aspects of the economy; the need for the RBI and its functions; and how taxes, stock markets, and recessions work. Day to Day Economics will help you go beyond the facts and figures in the budget and connect the trends to your daily life. As with all IIMA Business Books, it comes illustrated with numerous Indian examples and case studies making this the ultimate rookie's guide to the Indian economy.

Radical Love Apr 01 2021 To see peace in our lifetimes, we have to practice love. This is the radical message of this inspirational book of pithy advice from environmental activist Satish Kumar, which helps us find ways to love ourselves, others, and all beings on planet Earth—even those we may find unlovable. Satish Kumar is well known for his epic walk for world peace in his youth in the 1960s from India to the nuclear capitals of Moscow, Paris, London, and Washington, DC. Wherever he traveled, he found that human beings were capable of a love that could overcome hatred and division. Settling down in the UK, he married his wife, June Mitchell, and founded eco-university Schumacher College in Devon, eventually becoming a leading figure in the UK green movement. Radical Love distills the author's lifetime of experience as a lover, parent, activist, and educator into simple lessons on transforming our time of ecological crisis, conflict, and scarcity into one in which we experience harmony with nature, safety, and abundance. It is an exploration of the transformative power of love in all its forms, from romantic love to love for one's family and community to love for the planet and all beings. Kumar's approach is founded on simplicity (including the Jain principle of aparigraha), generosity, and continuous learning. Like an unfolding metta meditation, the book expands our notions of love to its most sublime universal state and makes a great gift to share with those we love.

Consumer Behaviour-2nd May 14 2022 We are all consumers living in a society. The most important concern for marketers is to influence consumer behaviour in a desired manner. This book attempts to answer the big question, "Why do people behave the way they do as consumers of all sorts of goods and services?" This focus of this book is to acquaint management students with a managerial understanding and insight of our behaviour as consumers. Students, who aspire to become marketing managers, brand managers, sales managers, or want to take up a career in advertising etc., need to acquire the knowledge and skills which would be critically useful to them in these careers. The text is comprehensive with relatively recent research inputs from scholars describing various behavioural concepts and theories that are believed to be fundamentally useful for developing an understanding of consumer behaviour. Wherever possible, to clarify the concepts, it has been endeavoured to use Indian examples to make it more relevant to Indian conditions and easier for students to understand. In this new edition, all the topics have been revised, and some moderately updated, with more recent or relevant material on the subject to make the text richer and more useful. Overall, the book would be quite useful and will meet the requirements of students pursuing management studies and specializing in marketing.

Spiritual Compass Oct 07 2021 In our modern, materialistic world it is easy to separate spirituality from everyday life, but this book encourages spirituality to be a part of our ordinary, everyday existence. It needs to be implicitly present in business, in politics, in farming, in cooking, and in relationships. To illustrate this, Satish Kumar draws on the Indian Ayurvedic tradition which characterizes the mind as having three gunas, or primary qualities: sattva (characterized by calmness, clarity and purity), rajas (energy and passion), and tamas (dullness and ignorance). When we see ourselves in the light of the three gunas, they can orient us toward the direction in which we wish to go. They can help us to recover the art of living, and lead us towards a peaceful and contented existence.

Soil · Soul · Society Jan 18 2020 We are all members of a one-earth society, and caring for the earth and soul is interrelated. This is the message of Satish Kumar, the internationally-respected peace and environment activist who has been gently setting the agenda for change for over 50 years. In Soil, Soul & Society, Satish presents the new trinity for our age of sustainability. One that shares the knowledge that we ourselves are very much part of nature; that what we do to nature we in fact do to ourselves; and that the earth is soulful. In this book, he inspires readers with the knowledge we are all leaders and can create change. He urges readers to create a new consciousness that reveres nature and explores how, as a global society, we need to embrace diversity and become pilgrims on this earth not tourists. To bring about change in the world we must be the change we wish to see.

Transformative Learning Apr 20 2020 Education as if people and planet mattered In Transformative Learning, Satish Kumar reflects on the legacy of Schumacher College, a beacon of innovation that fosters an ecological-based, holistic model of higher education built around the college's unique "learn by doing," head, heart, and hands pedagogy. Over fifty current and former instructors and alumni, including Vandana Shiva, David Orr, Kate Raworth, Fritjof Capra, Bill McKibben, Mary Evelyn Tucker, and Jonathon Porritt, paint a rich picture of education for human well-being and the ecological health of the planet. Contributions delve deeply into the nature of transformational learning and holistic education, present a wealth of alumni experiences of working towards an ecological society, and detail the expansion of the Schumacher model to Belgium, Brazil, India, Japan, and beyond. The result is a rich tapestry of ideas and educational methods packed with insights and experience for practitioners and activists looking to build a just, ecological society.

DR. SATISH DHAWAN Feb 23 2023 Satish Dhawan (25 September 1920 – 3 January 2002) was an Indian aerospace engineer, widely regarded as father of experimental fluid dynamics research in India. Born in Srinagar, Dhawan was educated in India and further on in the United States. Dhawan was one of the most eminent researchers in the field of turbulence and boundary layers, leading the successful and ingenious development of Indian space programme. He succeeded Vikram Sarabhai, the founder of the Indian space programme, as Chairman of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) in 1972 Dhawan carried out pioneering experiments in rural education, remote sensing and satellite communications. His efforts led to operational systems like INSAT, a telecommunications satellite; IRS, the Indian Remote Sensing satellite; and the Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle (PSLV), that placed India in the league of space faring nations.

Street Dreams Nov 27 2020 In the studios of India's rotographers a collection of props and backgrounds make it possible for ordinary men and women to act out their fantasies. Loving Satish Dec 29 2020 An inspiring true story about the first Indian child with a rare genetic disorder in Singapore. This memoir also includes parenting tips for caregivers of terminally ill children. Just when it seemed her perfect family was about to be completed with the birth of her third child, Author Devi Ahru's life was turned upside down in the summer of 2003. What was supposed to be the beginnings of a dream come true became months of uncertainty, depression, desperation, and finally acceptance. Part candid memoir, part parenting self-help, Loving Satish - Parenting a Dying Child is a nine-year labor of love which chronicles a mother's determined fight to save her son. This book is also an indispensable guide with tips for caregivers of children with special needs or disabilities or terminally ill. It's the uplifting story of a little boy named Satish, who, against all odds, not only survived longer than most children with his diagnosis, but who began to thrive in the environment his family had created. Loving Satish - Parenting a Dying Child is unforgettable. You may not have known Satish or his family, but you will be forever bound in spirit by his story. For those families who have received life-changing news, this is for you. If you don't know where to turn or how to feel, Devi Ahru has opened her heart in the following pages so you will know, above all else, that you are not alone. Devi Ahru addresses the difficult circumstances that many parents face today including: overcoming depression, dealing with grief, questioning our faith in God and dealing with our own personal crisis.
